Crimes (Child Sex Offenders) Act 2005

A2005-30

Republication No 30

Effective: 22 November 2018 – 31 August 2020

Republication date: 22 November 2018

Last amendment made by A2018-42

About this republication

The republished law

This is a republication of the Crimes (Child Sex Offenders) Act 2005 (including any amendment made under the Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 (Editorial changes)) as in force on 22 November 2018. It also includes any commencement, amendment, repeal or expiry affecting this republished law to 22 November 2018.

The legislation history and amendment history of the republished law are set out in endnotes 3 and 4.

Kinds of republications

The Parliamentary Counsel's Office prepares 2 kinds of republications of ACT laws (see the ACT legislation register at www.legislation.act.gov.au):

- authorised republications to which the Legislation Act 2001 applies
- unauthorised republications.

The status of this republication appears on the bottom of each page.

Editorial changes

The Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 authorises the Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial amendments and other changes of a formal nature when preparing a law for republication. Editorial changes do not change the effect of the law, but have effect as if they had been made by an Act commencing on the republication date (see Legislation Act 2001, s 115 and s 117). The changes are made if the Parliamentary Counsel considers they are desirable to bring the law into line, or more closely into line, with current legislative drafting practice.

This republication does not include amendments made under part 11.3 (see endnote 1).

Uncommenced provisions and amendments

If a provision of the republished law has not commenced, the symbol U appears immediately before the provision heading. Any uncommenced amendments that affect this republished law are accessible on the ACT legislation register (www.legislation.act.gov.au). For more information, see the home page for this law on the register.

Modifications

If a provision of the republished law is affected by a current modification, the symbol M appears immediately before the provision heading. The text of the modifying provision appears in the endnotes. For the legal status of modifications, see the Legislation Act 2001, section 95.

Penalties

At the republication date, the value of a penalty unit for an offence against this law is $160 for an individual and $810 for a corporation (see Legislation Act 2001, s 133).

Crimes (Child Sex Offenders) Act 2005

An Act about registration and reporting requirements for certain offenders who commit sexual offences against children, and for other purposes

Chapter 1 Preliminary

1 Name of Act

This Act is the Crimes (Child Sex Offenders) Act 2005.

3 Dictionary

The dictionary at the end of this Act is part of this Act.

Note 1 The dictionary at the end of this Act defines certain terms used in this Act, and includes references (signpost definitions) to other terms defined elsewhere.

For example, the signpost definition ‘witness protection program—see the Witness Protection Act 1996, dictionary.’ means that the term ‘witness protection program’ is defined in that dictionary and the definition applies to this Act.

Note 2 A definition in the dictionary (including a signpost definition) applies to the entire Act unless the definition, or another provision of the Act, provides otherwise or the contrary intention otherwise appears (see Legislation Act, s 155 and s 156 (1)).

4 Notes

A note included in this Act is explanatory and is not part of this Act.

Note See the Legislation Act, s 127 (1), (4) and (5) for the legal status of notes.

5 Offences against Act—application of Criminal Code etc

Other legislation applies in relation to offences against this Act.

Note 1 Criminal Code

The Criminal Code, ch 2 applies to all offences against this Act (see Code, pt 2.1).

The chapter sets out the general principles of criminal responsibility (including burdens of proof and general defences), and defines terms used for offences to which the Code applies (eg conduct, intention, recklessness and strict liability).

Note 2 Penalty units

The Legislation Act, s 133 deals with the meaning of offence penalties that are expressed in penalty units.

6 Purpose and outline

- (1) The purpose of this Act is to—
 - (a) require certain offenders who commit sexual offences to keep police informed of their whereabouts and other personal details for a period of time—
 - (i) to reduce the likelihood that they will reoffend; and
 - (ii) to facilitate the investigation and prosecution of future offences that they may commit; and
 - (b) prevent registrable offenders working in child-related employment; and
 - (c) prohibit registrable offenders from engaging in conduct that poses a risk to the lives or sexual safety of children.
- (2) In outline, this Act—
 - (a) provides for the establishment of a child sex offenders register; and

- (b) requires certain offenders who are sentenced for registrable offences to report particular personal details for inclusion in the child sex offenders register; and
- (c) allows the sentencing court to order young offenders to comply with the reporting obligations of the Act; and
- (d) requires the offenders to keep their details up to date, to report their details annually and to also report certain travel details; and
- (e) imposes the reporting obligations for a period of between 4 years and life, depending on the number, severity and timing of the offences committed, and the age of the offender when an offence was committed; and
- (f) allows for the recognition of the period of reporting obligations imposed under laws of foreign jurisdictions; and
- (g) makes it an offence for registrable offenders to work in child-related employment; and
- (h) allows the chief police officer to apply to the Magistrates Court for orders prohibiting registrable offenders from engaging in conduct that poses a risk to the lives or sexual safety of children.

Note The Ombudsman Act 1989 authorises the ombudsman to monitor compliance with this Act, pt 3.11 (Entry and search warrants) and ch 4 (Child sex offenders register).

7 Meaning of finding of guilt

- (1) For this Act, a reference to a finding of guilt (however expressed) in relation to an offence committed by a person is a reference to any of the following:
 - (a) a court making a formal finding of guilt in relation to the offence;
 - (b) a court accepting a plea of guilty from the person in relation to the offence;

- (c) an offence taken into account by a court under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005, part 4.4 (Taking additional offences into account) in making a sentence-related order in relation to a principal offence, or an admission (however described) being accepted in relation to the offence under a corresponding provision of a foreign law;
 - (d) an order (however described) being made in relation to the offence under—
 - (i) the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005, section 17 (Non-conviction orders—general); or
 - Note* An order under the Crimes Act 1900, s 402 (Conditional release of offenders without proceeding to conviction) (repealed) is taken to be a non-conviction order that is a good behaviour order under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005 (see Crimes (Sentence Administration) Act 2005, s 336).
 - (ii) a provision of a foreign law corresponding to a provision mentioned in subparagraph (i);
 - (e) a finding (however expressed) under the Crimes Act 1900, division 13.3 or the Criminal Code, section 28 (7) of not guilty because of mental impairment, or a finding under a corresponding provision of a foreign law.
- (2) For this Act, a reference to a finding of guilt (however expressed) in relation to an offence does not include a reference to—
- (a) a finding of guilt mentioned in subsection (1) (c) if—
 - (i) the offence was taken into account by a court under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005, part 4.4 (Taking additional offences into account) in making a sentence-related order in relation to a principal offence; and
 - (ii) the decision to take the offence into account is subsequently quashed or set aside by a court; or

- (b) a finding of guilt mentioned in subsection (1) (c) if—
 - (i) an admission (however described) was accepted in relation to the offence under a corresponding provision of a foreign law; and
 - (ii) the decision to accept the admission is subsequently quashed or set aside by a court; or
 - (c) in any other case—a finding of guilt that is subsequently quashed or set aside by a court.
- (3) For this section, a reference to taking into account an offence includes the taking into account of the offence under the Crimes Act 1900, section 357 (repealed).

Chapter 2 Offenders to whom Act applies

Part 2.1 Who is a registrable offender?

8 Who is a registrable offender?

Note 1 Sentence is broadly defined for this Act (see dict, def sentence).

Note 2 This Act applies to people sentenced by a court of a foreign jurisdiction for certain offences against the law of that jurisdiction (see dict, def court and s 10, def registrable offence).

Note 3 This Act applies to certain people who are registrable offenders for corresponding laws of foreign jurisdictions, even though they are not registrable offenders under this Act (see div 3.2.3 (People required to report under corresponding law)).

- section 9 (Registrable offender—exceptions)
 - section 13 (Effect of quashing of finding of guilt etc).

9 Registrable offender—exceptions

- (1) A person is not a registrable offender only because—
- (a) a court has made an order against the person for a class 1 or class 2 offence under—
 - (i) the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005, section 17 (Non-conviction orders—general); or
- Note* An order under the Crimes Act 1900, s 402 (Conditional release of offenders without proceeding to conviction) (repealed) is taken to be a non-conviction order that is a good behaviour order under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005 (see Crimes (Sentence Administration) Act 2005, s 336).
- (ii) a provision of a foreign law corresponding to a provision mentioned in subparagraph (i); or

(2) A person is not a registrable offender if—

- (a) the person was a young person at the time the registrable offence was committed; and
- (b) a court considers, on application by the defence, that including the person on the register is inappropriate in the circumstances of the case.

(3) In making a decision for subsection (2) (b), the court must consider—

- (a) the severity of the offence and the seriousness of the circumstances surrounding the commission of the offence; and
- (b) the age of the person at the time of the offence; and
- (c) the level of harm to the victim and the community caused by the offence; and
- (d) any attempts at rehabilitation by the person; and

- (f) any other circumstances that the court considers relevant.

(4) This section does not apply to a person who is a prescribed corresponding offender.

- (5) In this section:

single offence includes a reference to more than 1 offence of the same kind arising from the same incident.

Note Offences arise from the same incident only if they are committed within a single period of 24 hours and are committed against the same person (see dict, def same incident).

registrable offence means—

- (a) a class 1 offence; or
- (b) a class 2 offence; or
- (c) in relation to a person for whom a child sex offender registration order is made—an offence because of which the order was made.

Note If a person is found guilty of an offence that is not a class 1 or class 2 offence, the court may make a child sex offender registration order in relation to the person (see s 15). A child sex offender registration order is an order declaring that the person is a registrable offender for this Act (see s 14).

- (2) A class 1 offence is an offence mentioned in schedule 1, part 1.1 or part 1.2, column 2, committed in the circumstances (if any) mentioned in column 4 for the offence.
- (3) A class 2 offence is an offence mentioned in schedule 2, part 2.1 or part 2.2, column 2, committed in the circumstances (if any) mentioned in column 4 for the offence.

11 Who is a prescribed corresponding offender?

(1) In this Act:

prescribed corresponding offender means—

(a) a person who—

- (i) has been convicted of an offence, or is subject to an order corresponding, or substantially corresponding, to a non-conviction order under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005, in a foreign jurisdiction in relation to an offence; and
- (ii) has been required, at any time (whether before or after the commencement of this Act), to report to the corresponding registrar of the foreign jurisdiction in relation to the offence; and
- (iii) would, if the person were currently in the foreign jurisdiction, be required to report to the corresponding registrar of the jurisdiction in relation to the offence; or

(b) a person prescribed by regulation.

Note Power to make a statutory instrument (including a regulation) includes power to make different provision in relation to different matters or different classes of matters (see Legislation Act, s 48).

(2) However, a person is not a prescribed corresponding offender if the chief police officer decides the person should not be a prescribed corresponding offender under section 11A.

11A Chief police officer to decide if certain people prescribed corresponding offenders

(1) This section applies to a prescribed corresponding offender under section 11 (1) (a) because the person is subject to an order corresponding, or substantially corresponding, to a non-conviction order under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005 in a foreign jurisdiction in relation to an offence.

- (2) As soon as practicable after the person becomes a prescribed corresponding offender (and not later than 28 days after information about the person is included on the child sex offenders register under section 117), the chief police officer must decide whether the person should be a prescribed corresponding offender.

Note A decision under s (2) is a reviewable decision (see s 132ZV), and the chief police officer must give a reviewable decision notice to the person (see s 132ZW).

- (3) In making a decision under subsection (2), the chief police officer must consider—
- (a) the severity of the offence; and
 - (b) the age of the person at the time of the offence; and
 - (c) the level of harm to the victim and the community caused by the offence; and
 - (d) the period for which the person was reporting to the corresponding registrar of the foreign jurisdiction; and
 - (e) compliance by the person with any reporting and sentencing obligations; and
 - (f) any attempts at rehabilitation by the person; and
 - (g) whether the person poses a risk to the lives or sexual safety of 1 or more people or of the community; and
 - (h) any other circumstances that the chief police officer considers relevant.
- (4) If the chief police officer decides that a person should not be a prescribed corresponding offender, the chief police officer must remove the person from the child sex offenders register.

12 Appeal proceedings irrelevant

For this division, it is irrelevant whether or not a person may begin, or has begun, an appeal for a finding of guilt, sentence or child sex offender registration order.

13 Effect of quashing of finding of guilt etc

- (1) A person stops being a registrable offender if—
 - (a) the person is a registrable offender because of only a single finding of guilt for a registrable offence and either—
 - (i) the finding of guilt is quashed or set aside by a court; or
 - (ii) the person's sentence for the offence is reduced or otherwise amended on appeal so that the person would have been a person mentioned in section 9 (1) (b) or (c) had the amended sentence been the original sentence; or
 - (b) the person is a registrable offender only because the person is subject to a child sex offender registration order and the order is quashed or set aside on appeal.
- (2) However, the person does not stop being a registrable offender under subsection (1) (a) (i) if the court orders that the person be retried for the registrable offence.

Part 2.2 Child sex offender registration orders

Division 2.2.1 Child sex offender registration orders—generally

14 What is a child sex offender registration order?

A child sex offender registration order, in relation to a person, is—

- (a) an order made under section 15 (1) or section 18C; or
- (b) a corresponding child sex offender registration order.

Division 2.2.2 Orders for offenders guilty of offence other than class 1 or class 2 offence

15 Court may make child sex offender registration order

- (1) If a person is found guilty of an offence that is not a class 1 or class 2 offence, the court sentencing the person for the offence may make a child sex offender registration order in relation to the person.
- (2) This section is subject to the following sections:
 - section 16 (Court may only make order if person risk to sexual safety)
 - section 17 (Court may only make order with sentence)
 - section 18 (Court may only make order on prosecution application).

16 Court may only make order if person risk to sexual safety

- (1) The court may make a child sex offender registration order only if, after taking into account anything the court considers appropriate, the court is satisfied that the person poses a risk to the sexual safety of 1 or more people or of the community.

- (2) For subsection (1), it is not necessary that the court can identify a risk to particular people, or a particular class of people.

17 Court may only make order with sentence

- (1) The court may make a child sex offender registration order in relation to a person for an offence only if it imposes a sentence on the person for the offence, and must make the child sex offender registration order concurrent with the sentence.

- (2) In this section:

sentence, for an offence, does not include an order against a young offender under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005, section 13, 17, 18, 19, or 27.

18 Court may only make order on prosecution application

The court may make a child sex offender registration order only if an application for the order is made by the prosecution.

Division 2.2.3 Orders for certain previous offenders

18A Meaning of previous offender—div 2.2.3

For this division, a person is a previous offender if the person has been found guilty of a class 1 offence before the commencement of this Act.

18B Application for child sex offender registration order in relation to previous offender

- (1) The chief police officer may apply to the Magistrates Court for a child sex offender registration order in relation to a person if the chief police officer believes on reasonable grounds that—
- (a) the person is a previous offender; and
 - (b) the person poses a risk to the lives or sexual safety of 1 or more people or of the community.

- (2) For subsection (1) (b), it is not necessary for the court to be satisfied of a risk to a particular person or class of people.
- (3) The application must include—
 - (a) any information or material relevant to the application (regardless of whether the information or material supports the application); and
 - (b) details of whether an application under this section has previously been made in relation to the person.

18C Court may make child sex offender registration order in relation to previous offender

- (1) The Magistrates Court may, on application under section 18B, make a child sex offender registration order in relation to a person if, by evidence on oath and after taking into account anything it considers appropriate, the court is satisfied that—
 - (a) the person is a previous offender; and
 - (b) the person poses a risk to the lives or sexual safety of 1 or more people or of the community; and
 - (c) making the order will reduce the risk; and
 - (d) having regard to the matters in section 18D, the order is appropriate.
- (2) The application for the order may be heard, and the order made, in the person's absence if the court is satisfied that the application was served—
 - (a) personally on the person; and
 - (b) on anyone else as directed by the court.

18D Matters court must consider before making registration order in relation to previous offender

- (1) For section 18C (1) (d), the matters are as follows:
- (a) for each offence for which the person is a previous offender—
 - (i) the seriousness of the offence; and
 - (ii) the period since the offence was committed; and
 - (iii) the person's and victim's ages, and the difference in age between them, when the person committed the offence;
 - (b) the person's age;
 - (c) the seriousness of the person's criminal history;
 - (d) whether the level of risk that the person may commit another registrable offence outweighs the effect of the order on the person;
 - (e) the person's circumstances, to the extent that they relate to the order sought.

Examples

- 1 the person's accommodation, employment, health, cultural and social needs
- 2 the need to integrate the person into the community

Note An example is part of the Act, is not exhaustive and may extend, but does not limit, the meaning of the provision in which it appears (see Legislation Act, s 126 and s 132).

- (2) The court may have regard to anything else the court considers relevant.
- (3) In this section:

criminal history, about a person, means a finding of guilt against the person for a class 1 or class 2 offence.

18E Keeping documents connected with order

If the Magistrates Court makes a child sex offender registration order in relation to a previous offender, the chief police officer must, for the duration of the order, keep a copy of—

- (a) the application made under section 18B; and
- (b) any document relied upon for the application.

38 Exception—offender in government custody

This division does not apply to a registrable offender in relation to a year if the offender is in government custody at the end of the relevant time for the offender's report in that year.

Because of this section, J does not have to report his details on or before 31 October 2006. However, when J leaves custody, he will have to report any change to his personal details (see s 56).

Note An example is part of the Act, is not exhaustive and may extend, but does not limit, the meaning of the provision in which it appears (see Legislation Act, s 126 and s 132).

However, J must report his intention to travel outside the ACT (see s 42) and, when J returns to the ACT for 7 days, he will have to report any change to his personal details (see s 55).

Note 2 In deciding whether a person took all reasonable steps to do something, a court must have regard to the person's age, any disability and whether the notice given to the person about the person's obligations was adequate to tell the person about the relevant obligation (see s 116).

 - (b) there are reasonable grounds to believe that photographing the offender is likely to assist law enforcement, crime prevention or child protection purposes; and
 - (c) allowing reasonable force to be used in photographing the offender is justified in all the circumstances.

- (2) For subsection (1) (c), the magistrate must consider the following:
 - (a) the seriousness of the circumstances surrounding the commission of each offence that resulted in the offender being on the register and the severity of each offence;
 - (b) the age, mental health and cultural background of the offender, to the extent that they are known by the magistrate;

 - (c) include the name and signature of the police officer who received the report; and
 - (d) state how the report was made; and

- (e) state the date and time when the report was received; and
 - (f) if the report was made in person—state the place where the report was made; and
 - (g) include a copy of the information reported.
- (3) The chief police officer must ensure that a copy of every acknowledgment is kept.

Division 3.4.5 Keeping material for certain purposes

82 Documents, fingerprints, photographs may be kept

- (1) The chief police officer may, during a registrable offender's reporting period, keep for law enforcement, crime prevention or child protection purposes any of the following taken under this part from, or in relation to, the offender:
- (a) copies of documents;

 - (c) photographs.
- (2) At the end of the registrable offender's reporting period, the chief police officer must ensure that any item that is being kept under subsection (1) is destroyed.

Part 3.5 Reporting period

83 When reporting period begins

- (1) A registrable offender's (other than a previous offender's) reporting period for a registrable offence begins at the later of the following times:
 - (a) when the offender is sentenced for the offence;
 - (b) if the offender is in, or begins, full-time government custody on the day the offender is sentenced for the registrable offence—when the offender stops being in full-time government custody.
- (2) A previous offender's reporting period for a registrable offence begins at the later of the following times:
 - (a) when the offender was sentenced for the offence;
 - (b) if the offender was in full-time government custody on the day the offender was sentenced for the registrable offence—when the offender stopped or stops being in full-time government custody.

84 Reporting period—single class 1 offence—15 years

If the only registrable offence that a registrable offender has ever been found guilty of is a single class 1 offence, the offender's reporting period is 15 years.

85 Reporting period—single class 2 offence—8 years

If the only registrable offence that a registrable offender has ever been found guilty of is a single class 2 offence, the offender's reporting period is 8 years.

86 Reporting period—2 class 2 offences—15 years

If the only registrable offences that a registrable offender has ever been found guilty of are 2 class 2 offences, the offender's reporting period is 15 years.

87 Reporting period—multiple offences—life

- (1) If a registrable offender has been found guilty of 2 registrable offences and 1 or both of the offences is a class 1 offence, the registrable offender's reporting period is the rest of the offender's life.
- (2) If a registrable offender has been found guilty of more than 2 registrable offences, the offender's reporting period is the rest of the offender's life.

Note A life-long reporting obligation may be suspended under s 97 (Supreme Court may make suspension order).

88 Offences committed before commencement of Act used to work out length of reporting period

A reference to an offence in any of the following sections includes an offence committed before the commencement of the section:

- (a) section 84 (Reporting period—single class 1 offence—15 years);
- (b) section 85 (Reporting period—single class 2 offence—8 years);
- (c) section 86 (Reporting period—2 class 2 offences—15 years);
- (d) section 87 (Reporting period—multiple offences—life).

89 Reduced reporting period for young offenders

- (1) If a registrable offender was a young person when the offender committed each registrable offence, the offender's reporting period is 7¹/₂ years.
- (2) However, if the only registrable offence that the offender has ever been found guilty of is a single class 2 offence, the offender's reporting period is 4 years.

90 Offences arising from same incident taken as 1 offence

- (1) For this part, 2 or more offences arising from the same incident are to be treated as a single offence.
- (2) For this part, 2 or more offences arising from the same incident are to be treated as a single class 1 offence if 1 or more of the offences is a class 1 offence.

Note Offences arise from the same incident only if they are committed within a single period of 24 hours and are committed against the same person (see dict, def same incident).

91 Reporting period for person subject to child sex offender registration order

For this part, if a court makes a child sex offender registration order in relation to a person for an offence, the person is taken to be a registrable offender found guilty of a class 2 offence.

Note A court may make a child sex offender registration order if a person is found guilty of an offence that is not a class 1 or class 2 offence and the court is satisfied that the person poses a risk to the sexual safety of 1 or more people or of the community (see s 15).

92 Extended reporting period for offenders on parole

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) a registrable offender is on parole for a registrable offence; and
 - (b) the reporting period for the offence will end before the end of the term of the sentence of imprisonment to which the parole relates.
- (2) Despite anything in this part, the registrable offender's reporting period is extended until the end of the term of imprisonment to which the parole relates.

93 Extended reporting period for offender in custody

If a registrable offender spends time in government custody, the offender's reporting period is extended by the length of time the offender is in custody.

94 Reporting period for prescribed corresponding offenders

- (1) Despite anything in this part, the reporting period for a prescribed corresponding offender is the period the offender would be required to report to the corresponding registrar of a foreign jurisdiction in the circumstances described in section 11 (1) (a) (Who is a prescribed corresponding offender?).
- (2) If the prescribed corresponding offender is a prescribed corresponding offender under a law of more than 1 foreign jurisdiction, the offender's reporting period is the longest of the reporting periods of the foreign jurisdictions that apply to the offender.

Part 3.6 Suspension of reporting obligations

95 Pt 3.6 only applies to offender with life-long reporting period

This part applies only to a registrable offender whose reporting period under part 3.5 (Reporting periods) is the rest of the offender's life.

96 Eligibility of offender to apply for suspension order

A registrable offender is eligible to apply for an order suspending the offender's reporting obligations (a suspension order) only if—

- (a) 15 years have passed (excluding days in government custody) since the offender was last sentenced or released from government custody for a registrable offence or a corresponding registrable offence, whichever is later; and
- (b) the offender did not become the subject of a life-long reporting period under a corresponding law while in a foreign jurisdiction before becoming the subject of a life-long reporting period in the ACT; and
- (c) the offender is not on parole for a registrable offence.

97 Supreme Court may make suspension order

- (1) This section applies if a registrable offender is eligible to apply for a suspension order.
- (2) On application by the offender, the Supreme Court may make a suspension order.
- (3) The court may make the order only if satisfied that the registrable offender does not pose a risk to the sexual safety of 1 or more people or of the community.

- (4) In deciding whether to make the order, the court must take into account—
- (a) the seriousness of the offender’s registrable offences and corresponding registrable offences; and
 - (b) the period of time since the offences were committed; and
 - (c) the age of the offender, the age of the victims of the offences, and the difference in age between the offender and the victims of the offences, when the offences were committed; and
 - (d) the offender’s present age; and
 - (e) the offender’s total criminal record.
- (5) Subsection (4) does not limit the matters the court may take into account.

98 Chief police officer is party to application

The chief police officer is a party to an application for a suspension order and may make submissions to the Supreme Court in relation to the application.

99 No costs to be awarded for suspension order application

The Supreme Court may not award costs for a proceeding under this part.

100 Unsuccessful applicant cannot reapply for 5 years

If the Supreme Court refuses to make a suspension order in relation to a registrable offender, the offender is not eligible to reapply for a suspension order for 5 years after the day of the refusal, unless the court otherwise orders when refusing to make the order.

Note However, this section does not apply if a suspension order ceases to have effect under s 101 (1) (see s 102).

101 Suspension order ceases if offender reoffends

- (1) A suspension order made for a registrable offender ceases to have effect if, after the order is made, the offender—
 - (a) is found guilty of a registrable offence; or
 - (b) is made the subject of a child sex offender registration order; or
 - (c) becomes a prescribed corresponding offender.

Note If an offender's reporting obligations are suspended and the suspension order ceases to have effect, the offender must report the offender's personal details to the chief police officer at an approved reporting place within the time stated in s 30 (Offence—offender whose reporting suspension ceases must report).

- (2) A suspension order that has ceased to have effect under subsection (1) is revived if—
 - (a) the finding of guilt because of which the order ceased to have effect is quashed or set aside by a court; or
 - (b) the order ceased to have effect under subsection (1) (b) and the child sex offender registration order is quashed on appeal or the registrable offender's finding of guilt for the offence because of which the child sex offender registration order is made is quashed or set aside by a court.
- (3) For this section, it is irrelevant whether or not a registrable offender may begin, or has begun, an appeal in relation to a finding of guilt or a child sex offender registration order.

102 Application for new suspension order

- (1) If a suspension order made for a registrable offender ceases to have effect under section 101 (1), the offender may apply for a new order.
- (2) Section 100 (Unsuccessful applicant cannot reapply for 5 years) does not apply to the application.

- (3) If a suspension order made for a registrable offender ceases to have effect under section 101 (1) (b) or (c), and the offender applies for a new suspension order, section 96 (a) (Eligibility for offender to apply for suspension order) applies as if the 15-year period mentioned were a period of 15 years (excluding days in government custody) since the registrable offender last committed a registrable offence or a corresponding registrable offence.

Part 3.7 Notice of reporting obligations

103 What is a reporting obligations notice?

In this Act:

reporting obligations notice, for a registrable offender, means a written notice stating—

- (a) the offender's reporting obligations; and
- (b) the consequences that may arise if the offender does not take all reasonable steps to comply with the obligations.

104 Reporting obligations notice to be given when person becomes registrable offender

- (1) An entity prescribed by regulation for this section must give a registrable offender a reporting obligations notice as soon as practicable, but no later than 14 days after the day any of the following events happen:
 - (a) the offender is sentenced for a registrable offence;
 - (b) the offender is released from government custody (whether or not the person was in government custody for a registrable offence);
 - (c) the offender is released from full-time government custody for a registrable offence;
 - (d) the offender enters the ACT, and remains in the ACT for 7 days, if the offender has not previously been given notice of the offender's reporting obligations in the ACT;
 - (e) the offender becomes a prescribed corresponding offender, if the offender is in the ACT at the time.
- (2) An entity is not required to give a reporting obligations notice if the notice has been given by someone else.

- (3) Despite anything in this part, a regulation may provide that a reporting obligations notice is not required to state the registrable offender's reporting period if the regulation requires a notice containing that information to be given when the offender reports the offender's personal details in person under this chapter.

105 Reporting obligations notice may be given at any time

The chief police officer may, at any time, give a registrable offender a reporting obligations notice.

106 Courts to provide sentencing information to chief police officer

- (1) This section applies if a court—
- (a) makes a order or imposes a sentence that has the effect of making a person a registrable offender for this Act; or
 - (b) imposes a sentence on a person in relation to a registrable offence; or
 - (c) makes a order in relation to a registrable offender that has the effect of removing the person from the ambit of this Act.

Example for par (c)

a court on appeal quashes a finding of guilt in relation to a registrable offence for which a person had been sentenced and the offence was the only registrable offence for which the person had ever been found guilty

Note An example is part of the Act, is not exhaustive and may extend, but does not limit, the meaning of the provision in which it appears (see Legislation Act, s 126 and s 132).

- (2) The court must give the chief police officer written notice of the order or sentence as soon as practicable.
- (3) In this section:
- court* does not include a court of a foreign jurisdiction.

107 Chief police officer must tell offender if reporting period changes

- (1) This section applies to a registrable offender whose reporting period has changed since the offender was last told of the offender's reporting period in the ACT.
- (2) The chief police officer must give written notice to the registrable offender as soon as practicable after the change, and in no case later than the time the offender next reports under this Act.

108 Supervising authority to tell chief police officer of certain events

- (1) This section applies if a registrable offender—
 - (a) stops being in government custody, irrespective of the reason the offender was in custody; or
 - (b) stops being in full-time government custody for a registrable offence; or
 - (c) stops being subject to a community service order, irrespective of the reason the offender was subject to the order; or
 - (d) stops being subject to a good behaviour order under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005; or
 - (e) stops being subject to a condition of parole requiring the offender to be subject to supervision, irrespective of the reason the offender was on parole; or
 - (f) becomes a registrable offender prescribed by regulation for this section.
- (2) The supervising authority must give written notice of an event mentioned in subsection (1) to the chief police officer as soon as practicable, but no later than 14 days after the day the event happens.
- (3) The notice must include any details prescribed by regulation.

109 Procedural defects do not affect offender's obligations

A failure by a person other than a registrable offender to comply with a procedural requirement imposed on the person by this chapter or by regulation does not, of itself, affect an offender's reporting obligations.

Part 3.8 Protected witnesses

110 Who is a protected registrable offender?

- (1) A person is a protected registrable offender if the person is—
- (a) a registrable offender who is—
 - (i) a participant in the witness protection program; or
 - (ii) the subject of a protected registrable offender declaration in force under this part; or
 - (b) a foreign protected witness.
- (2) In this section:

foreign protected witness means a person who—

- (a) is receiving protection under a law of a foreign jurisdiction that—
 - (i) provides for the protection of witnesses; and
 - (ii) is prescribed by regulation for this subsection; or
- (b) has the same status under a corresponding law as a person mentioned in paragraph (a).

111 Protected and unprotected registrable offender declarations

If a registrable offender is a participant in the witness protection program and stops being a participant in the program, the chief police officer must declare that the offender is either—

- (a) a protected registrable offender (a protected registrable offender declaration); or

- (b) not a protected registrable offender (an unprotected registrable offender declaration).

Note A decision under s 111 is a reviewable decision (see s 132ZV), and the chief police officer must give a reviewable decision notice to the person (see s 132ZW).

115 When protected and unprotected registrable offender declarations take effect

- (1) A protected registrable offender declaration takes effect immediately.
- (2) An unprotected registrable offender declaration made for a registrable offender takes effect on the later of the following days:
 - (a) at the end of 28 days after the day the offender is told about the making of the declaration;
 - (b) if the offender applies to the ACAT under chapter 5B for review of a declaration—on the day the ACAT makes a decision on the application.

Part 3.9 Reasonable steps to comply with reporting obligations

116 How court decides if person took all reasonable steps to comply with reporting obligations

- (1) In deciding whether a person took all reasonable steps to comply with a reporting obligation imposed on a person by a reporting offence, the court hearing the proceeding must have regard to—
 - (a) the person’s age; and
 - (b) whether the person has a disability that affects the person’s ability to understand, or to comply with, the obligation; and
 - (c) whether the form of notice given to the person about the person’s obligations under this Act was adequate to tell the person about the obligation, having regard to the person’s circumstances.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not limit the matters to which the court may have regard.

Part 3.10 Failure to comply with reporting obligations—public notices

116A Chief police officer may issue public notice in certain circumstances

- (1) The chief police officer or a deputy chief police officer may publish a notice about a registrable offender if—
 - (a) satisfied that the offender—
 - (i) has failed to comply with a reporting obligation under this chapter; and
 - (ii) cannot be located; and
 - (b) the offender is not a young person; and
 - (c) the officer believes on reasonable grounds that—
 - (i) the offender poses a risk to the lives or sexual safety of 1 or more people or of the community; and
 - (ii) publishing the notice will reduce the risk.
- (2) For subsection (1) (c) (i), it is not necessary for the officer to identify a risk to particular people, or a particular class of people.
- (3) The notice must—
 - (a) include 1 or more of the following:
 - (i) the offender's name;
 - (ii) a photograph of the offender;
 - (iii) a description of the offender; and
 - (b) state that the offender is required by police to answer questions; but
 - (c) not state that the offender is a registrable offender.

116C Entry and search warrant—application

- (1) The chief police officer, a deputy chief police officer or a police officer of or above the rank of sergeant (the applicant) may apply to a magistrate for an entry and search warrant.
- (2) The application must—
 - (a) state—
 - (i) the name of the applicant; and

 - (iii) the nature and duration of the warrant sought; and
 - (iv) whether the registrable offender has previously been subject to a search authorised under a territory law in relation to similar information or material; and or

 - (ii) if the registrable offender is subject to an order under chapter 5A (Orders prohibiting offender conduct)—because the offender has breached, or is likely to breach, the order; and

 - (ii) if the registrable offender is subject to an order under chapter 5A (Orders prohibiting offender conduct)—the offender has breached, or is likely to breach, the order; and

- (3) In deciding any conditions under subsection (1) (f), the magistrate must have regard to the personal privacy of a third party who may be affected by the warrant.
