

Australian Capital Territory

Public Place Names (Denman Prospect) Determination 2024 (No 2)

Disallowable instrument DI2024–122

made under the

Public Place Names Act 1989, s 3 (Minister to determine names)

---

1 Name of instrument

This instrument is the Public Place Names (Denman Prospect) Determination 2024 (No 2).

2 Commencement

This instrument commences on the day after its notification day.

3 Determination of place names

I determine the place names as indicated in the schedule.

Ben Ponton
Delegate of the Minister for Planning

7 June 2024

SCHEDULE

(See s 3)

---

Division of Denman Prospect – Activism and Reform

The location of the public places with the following names is indicated on the associated diagram.

NAME	ORIGIN	SIGNIFICANCE
Joan Eveline Crescent	Dr Joan Eveline (1940–2009)	Academic, feminist and writer  Joan Eveline researched and taught in the sociology of work, critical management, leadership, and industrial relations. She was particularly interested in gender and diversity studies and the effects of policy development and implementation. In 1994, Joan Eveline was awarded a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) by Murdoch University (Perth). She joined the staff at the University of Western Australia (UWA) in 1995, following periods lecturing and researching at the Australian National University (Canberra) and Flinders University (Adelaide). Dr Eveline was Associate Professor in the Business School, UWA, and Co-Director of the Consortium for Diversity at Work, UWA. She published extensively, including, Care with compliance: changing the worlds of men (1994); Carrying the banner: women, leadership and activism in Australia (Joan Eveline and Lorraine Hayden, 1999); Control and resistance in women's work : examples from women in mining (Joan Eveline and Michael Booth, 2002); and Mainstreaming politics: gendering practices and feminist theory (Carol Bacchi and Joan Eveline, 2010).

Judith Yates Terrace

Dr Judith Nancy Yates
AM

(1943–2022)

Housing economist and policy adviser, social justice

Judith Yates was a leading housing economist whose work focused on distributional and social issues associated with housing markets. She documented and drew attention to how housing and related taxation policies and programs impacted different groups within the Australian community. Her work informed the development of housing policies and programs over many decades. Yates worked with Commonwealth, state and local governments. She was a lecturer and associate professor at the University of Sydney from 1971–2009 and board member and finance advisor for the Association to Resource Cooperative Housing. Dr Yates published papers in academic journals and government and industry reports on aspects of Australia's housing sector, including affordability and the supply of low-rent housing.

She co-authored the book Housing Policy in Australia: A Case for System Reform (Hal Pawson, Vivienne Milligan, Judith Yates, 2020). Dr Judith Yates was appointed a Member of the Order of Australia in 2021 for ‘significant service to housing and economic research, and to education’.

Red Ribbon Lane	Red Ribbon symbol	Activism
	Red Ribbon Agitation (1853)	On 27 August 1853, an estimated ten thousand ‘diggers’ gathered in Bendigo, Victoria to protest the introduction of a monthly licence fee of 30 shillings. The protesters wore red ribbons to demonstrate their solidarity and their call for civil liberties, including the right to land and representation. A short suspension of the fee provided temporary relief, but more meetings and protests followed, eventually leading to the Eureka Stockade uprising in Ballarat, Victoria in December 1854. The historical site of the Red Ribbon Agitation is marked by two plaques installed in Rosalind Park, Bendigo in 2006.
	Red Ribbon World AIDS Day (1 December)	The red ribbon is the global symbol for raising awareness, support, solidarity and remembrance about HIV (the Human Immunodeficiency Virus) and AIDS (Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome). Founded in 1988, World AIDS Day (1 December) is observed with the red ribbon.

Youdale Street

Kenneth Hudson
Youdale AM DFC
(1924–2016)

Community service, advocate for thalidomide survivors

Ken Youdale enlisted in the Royal Australian Air Force in 1942, serving as a navigator with No. 619 Squadron (Royal Air Force) during the Second World War. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross in 1945 for his 'skill and fortitude in operations'. Youdale studied law at the University of New South Wales and was admitted to the Bar in 1950, later establishing a distinguished business career with companies including Coca-Cola Amatil. He served the community in a range of roles and was honorary governor, the Thalidomide Foundation Ltd during 1974–1998. Youdale was admitted as a solicitor in New South Wales in 1988. He advocated for many years for better redress for surviving victims in Australia and New Zealand, of the thalidomide birth defect drug. In 2010, Youdale led negotiations, assisted by lawyer, Peter Gordon, to achieve an additional goodwill payment from a multinational company. In 2013, a legal team led by Gordon, achieved a court settlement for class action claimants against the manufacturer and the distributor of the drug. Ken Youdale was appointed a Member of the Order of Australia in 2013 for 'significant service to the community, particularly as an advocate for people affected by thalidomide'. In 2023, the Prime Minister of Australia, delivered a National Apology to all Australians impacted by the Thalidomide Tragedy. The 'National Site of Recognition for Thalidomide Survivors and their Families' was dedicated in Canberra in November 2023.

Schedule
(see section 3)

DIVISION OF DENMAN PROSPECT

Diagram