Part 3 — Formulas for non-standard full and provisional licence periods

- (1) The fee payable for a full licence issued or renewed for a period not more than 6 years is the amount worked out in accordance with the following formula:

$$(F/60) \times N$$

where:

F is the 5-year fee for a full licence; and

N is the number of months, and part months, rounded up to the nearest number of whole months for which the licence is to be issued or renewed.

Example

Carol’s full licence is issued for a period of 5 years, 2 months and 3 weeks. For the formula, N is 63. This is because there are 60 months in a 5-year period and the 2 months and 3 weeks are rounded up to 3 months, making a total of 63.

Note An example is part of the instrument, is not exhaustive and may extend, but does not limit, the meaning of the provision in which it appears (see Legislation Act, s 126 and s 132).

- (2) The fee payable for a full licence issued or renewed for a period that is more than 6 years is the amount worked out in accordance with the following formula:

$$X + \{[(Y - X) / 48] \times M\}$$

where:

X is the fee for the issue of a full licence for 6 years;

Y is the 10-year fee for a full licence; and

M is the number of months, and part months, rounded up to the nearest number of whole months, between 6 years and the date for which the licence is to be issued or renewed.

Example 1

Greg’s full licence is issued for a period of 7 years, 4 months and 2 weeks. For the formula, M is 17. This is because there are 12 months in a one year period and the 4 months and 2 week period is rounded up to 5 months, making a total of 17.

Example 2

Michelle’s licence is issued for a period of 10 years, 7 months and 1 week. For the formula, M is 56. This is because there are 48 months in a 4 year period and the 7 months and 1 week are rounded up to 8 months, making a total of 56.

Note An example is part of the instrument, is not exhaustive and may extend, but does not limit, the meaning of the provision in which it appears (see Legislation Act, s 126 and s 132).

- (3) The fee payable for a provisional licence issued or renewed for a period other than 3 years is the amount worked out in accordance with the following formula:

$$(F/36) \times N$$

where:

F is the 3-year fee for a provisional licence; and

- Licence fees are rounded down to the nearest 10 cents after doing the above calculations.
