Trustee Companies (Amendment) Ordinance 1984
No. 6 of 1984

The First Schedule of the Trustee Companies Ordinance 1947 lists the names of the A.C.T. companies which are authorised trustee companies under the Ordinance. Trustees Executors and Agency Company (Canberra) Limited is included in the First Schedule.

The purpose of this Ordinance is to amend the First Schedule of that Ordinance to change the name Trustees Executors and Agency Company (Canberra) Limited to ANZ Executors and Trustee Company (Canberra) Limited.

Following the acquisition of Trustees Executors and Agency Company (Canberra) Limited by Australian and New Zealand Banking Group Limited, the name of the former company was changed to ANZ Executors and Trustee Company (Canberra) Limited on 26 January 1984.

Section 1 provides that the Ordinance may be cited as the Trustee Companies (Amendment) Ordinance 1984.

Section 2 omits from the First Schedule to the Trustee Companies Ordinance 1947 "Trustees Executors and Agency Company (Canberra) Limited" and substitutes "ANZ Executors and Trustee Company (Canberra) Limited".
