CHIEF MINISTER'S DEPARTMENT

Expression of Interest

Industrial Relations Consultants

Expressions of interest are sought from organisations specialising in the provision of professional and expert advice and related support services in industrial relations to be engaged as consultants to the Chief Minister's Department.

The services that would be required include.

- advise and assist in the implementation of industrial relations policy and practice;
- monitor and advise on the achievement of productivity, efficiency and best practice;
- assist and advise as required in the development of strategies to maximise productivity, efficiency and best practice outcomes under enterprise bargaining;
- provide mediation and facilitation services
- advise on implementation of the Workplace Relations Act; and
- provide legal and advocacy services.

The above services are sought from one or more consultancy agents. It is expected that organisations selected to provide services will have relevant expertise and resource support.

Expression of interest must address the following criteria

- a profile of your organisation, and details of the range of services offered
- the organisation's experience and expertise in industrial relations
- a curriculum vitae of persons nominated to provide the services sought
- relevant fees (eg retainer, hourly rate, daily rate)

Those selected to provide services may be placed on a retainer or may be engaged on a "as required" basis

Organisations which have, or which can gain and sustain a close understanding of the employment arrangements and context applying in the ACT Government Sector will be preferred.

All expressions of interest and enquiries should be forwarded to Paul Rayner, Director, Industrial Relations and Executive Management, ACT Chief Minister's Department, PO Box 158, Canberra ACT 2601.
